"Stronger Together" explores the year in a positive manner that underscores the importance of family at our school. Our school is like one big family that uplifts one another. It is also refreshing since we have been apart without a choice the year before. This focus is appropriate since our school was online for a year before this year, a year completely back on campus since the 2018-2019 school year. This sends a message that our school is surely stronger together, valuing love and fellowship, in and beyond our campus. Enjoy this book. We are C.A.G. Cougars!

Class of 2022 The catine verse says, "No one will them in our prayers and support be able to stand against you all the through the offers

12th Grade

"No one will be able to stand against you all the days of your life. As I was with Moses, so I will be with you; I will never leave you nor forsake you." - Joshua 1:5

Joshua 1:5c (NIV) ...I will never leave you nor forsake you days of your life. As I was with Mal This watewase, so twill be with you a will you will have been a will be with you nor never leave you nor forsake you." The Class of 2022 is well prepared to move on to their next stage of life. While this is often viewed as a time of initial independence from home, we are not sending them into the world alone. Yes, the Holy Spirit of Jesus will be with them, but that is not all. Parents are a Zoom call away. CAG will be with through their first semester away. Perhaps the verse should say, forsake you." We pray God's best for you.

I hope your dreams take you to the corners of your smiles, to the highest of your hopes, to the window of opportunities, but most of all may your dreams be that God will use you in a way that blesses others and yourself. Mr. &

Birthday: 01/03/2004

Where were you born? North Carolina

Parents: Mr. Jason Brink, Mrs. Marcy Brink

Siblings: Adam, Lydia, Gracie

Pets: Pepper (dog), Fish (fish)

Nationality: American

Most challenging task as a Senior: Having every single person you meet ask you what you are going to do with your life when you have no idea.

Post high school dream: My post high school dream is to be a pilot in the air force because it sounds like a very interesting and exciting career that would be very rewarding.

My Hero: Donald Trump is my hero because he doesn't care what others think of him and in today's age of social media that's a very admirable. He also is a man of his word and does what he promises. Also he's probably the best president to ever live, so there's that.

My advice for incoming freshmen: Don't bother taking hard classes senior year.

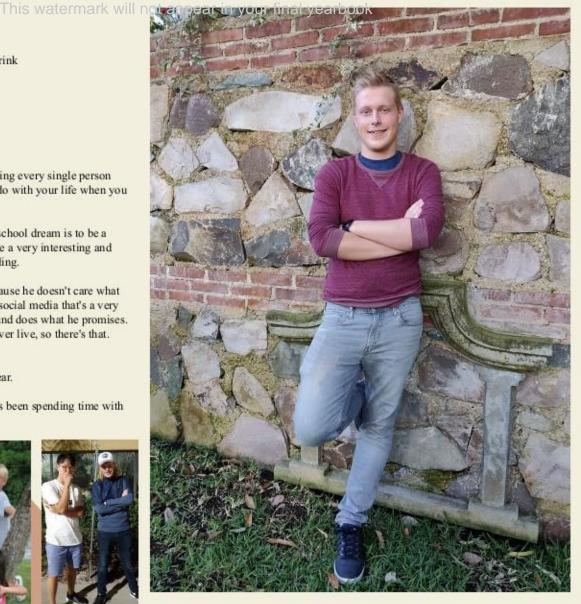

The highlight of my senior year so far has been spending time with my class during lunch and after school.

Sisters: Thanks for being such good siblings and keeping life interesting. I hope you continue to do well at CAG. I'll miss you.

Urim: Although it was unlikely, a Chinese and American becoming best friends, I think we made it work quite well! You have certainly made high school a blast and some of my best memories are joking around with you. I still can't get over how destructive you are though... I sink, 2 chairs, 1 laptop... hahaha but it has been great though, and you really are a good friend and I'll miss you a ton. I hope you still remember me when you become a genius billionaire! P.S. You still owe me for stepping on my computer.

Jonathan: It's hard to believe how long it's been since we first met, but we have certainly had our fair share of adventures in that time! I'm sad it has to end. I really mean it when I say you're a great friend and I hope your college goes well!

Thomas: From the beginning you have always been a super close friend. You were the first person to talk to me at school and to this day you still are nice to me. It's a shame we couldn't spend all senior year together in school but the times we did hang out were awesome!

Robert: Even though you are always wrong, I am really going to miss our moral and political debates. You have such a smart mind that it's a shame it's wasted on your views... Oh well. At least you never cease to amuse me whether it's your chaotic sports playing or incredibly annoying English reading voice! Although it took a while I would say we became real good friends these past few years, so I hope we keep connected. Stay sharp!

David: I gotta say David, you definitely never let there be a dull moment! It's been a great time knowing you and I hope you do well in life. Santiago: Enjoy life Lugo, and work hard. You got a good brain, if you just use it then I could see you getting somewhere in life! Soohoon: Even though it's only been a year, it honestly feels like I've known you forever. You're a fun and good friend and I'm so glad we got to spend senior year together. Stay safe in Korea.

Kristen: High school has been crazy, but throughout it all you have been a good friend. You brought a nice balance to our class between hard work and fun so it was great getting to spend high school with you.

Vale: I'm so glad you're in my class; we wouldn't be complete without you. Thanks for making lunch and free periods awesome! I never did get that helicopter ride though... Jk stay cool!

Wendy: You are a good and funny friend in your own quiet way, and I'll definitely miss you!

Rhett: Nice knowing you Rhett, don't get lost!

Class of 2022: The only reason school was fun was because of you guys. I really can't think of anybody else I would rather have been with in class. I'm grateful to all of you and I will sincerely miss you guys so much!

Mrs. Jing/Mr. Loftus: Thank you guys so much; you were a huge help with the difficult topics in class and I couldn't have done it without you!

Mr. / Mrs. Malczewski: You guys were awesome advisors; thanks for putting up with us!

Mr Dunn: You're a good teacher Colt, and a good friend. Thanks for everything

My Story: I was born in the town Huntsville, Alabama. I lived in a town called Greenhill, Alabama until the year of 2009 which is when my family moved to the town of Saint Joseph, Tennessee. Saint Joe (as we call it) is a little tiny town with one four-way stop and a Dollar General. The only reason it is a town is because it has a Post Office.

My family moved away from there in the year of 2015 which is when my Mom graduated college and got a job in a town named Cookeville, Tennessee. We lived in Cookeville from the years 2015-2018, which is when we moved into a Fifth-Wheel RV and started traveling the US as full-time Missionaries. We landed in Montana after traveling the US in the year 2019. Which is when God started to prepare us to become full-time international missionaries. May 2021 came and we packed up all of our stuff and moved to Guatemala, and here we still are. God, through all of our moving and all the places we lived, was preparing us to be here in Guatemala.

Thank you Lord for all that you have done and will do in my life.

My Family: I want to thank you guys so much for all you have done, thank you for all of your encouragement. Thank you for always being there, thank you for pushing me to better myself and step outside of my comfort zone. Life without you guys would be totally boring. Thank you for everything, Love you guys!

Cristalinas: You guys are amazing! I can first remember moving to Cristalinas and thinking these kids are pretty cool. You guys are not stuck with me forever, you guys are awesome and have become my Guatemala family. Thank you guys for the goofy times, and for the very serious times that we have.

Romero Family: You guys are very special to me. Thank you all for making me another kid/nephew of the family. You guys will always have a special part of my heart. You guys are all amazing, may the Lord bless you lots. Thank you Mr. Romero for your youth group and discipleship class, I love your accent, it's amazing.

Class of 2022: Even though I wasn't a full-time student you guys still included me in everything. thank you for that. Thanks for letting me come in this last year of school and be a part of the class and join all the activities and crash all the parties. You guys are awesome! Ethan, Vale, Wendy,

Eden, Robert, Santiago, David, Sohoon, Urim, Joanne, Jocelyn, Kristen

Mom: Thank you for being the best teacher ever! Thank you for always being there through thick and thin and always pushing me towards the Lord. I love you so much!!

Jona: When I left Montana I thought it was the worst thing in the world, but little did I know what the Lord had in store for me. We really didn't hangout much until the fall of 2021 but when we started hanging out we got really close and developed a deep friendship. I am so thank ful for all that you have done for me, for all the crazy things we do and all of our very deep conversations. Thank you for always being there! Thomas: Thank you so much for always talking and listening. Thanks for walking laps with me. You are a very special friend in my life and I want to thank you for that.

Colt: Man O' Man I don't even know where to start. You are always there, you are an AMAZING person and such a spiritual influence on my life, we have been through so much together and it has built an awesome relationship. I love you so much, you are the best older brother anyone could ask for.

Birthday: 08/05/2004

Where were you born? Nampa, Idaho

Parents: Roger and Damaris Kellogg

Siblings: Heather Kellogg

Pets: Sasha (dog) Bella (dog)

Nationality: American and Guatemalan (dual citizen)

Most challenging task as a Senior: Finishing high school when you want to move onto the next stage of life but then also maintaining good friendships when you know you are going to leave in a few months.

Best C.A.G. memory or other: Any time that I hang out with my class.

Post high school dream: To be happy with how I spend my time. No matter if I am in college, taking a gap year, or traveling, I want to be content with where God has put me.

Things I would bring if I were stranded on a desert island: Knife, water purifying straw/filter, a solar charged battery pack, my phone, and a blanket for warmth.

My Hero: My dad is my hero. He's my hero because he always pushes himself to his limits for the benefit of others. His heart is huge and though it may not seem like it, he has a lot of compassion. He is the person who picks me up when I am down and pushes me to do my best even when I might not want him to. He taught me to never give up and to never quit when something is hard. He carves out time to do things that I want to do, such as teach me how to weld while building a go kart, he always answers my phone calls even when he is welding something on a roof, and I never have to second guess myself if he is going to be there for me. He is my rock and that is why he is my hero.

Strangest advice my parents ever gave me and it proved to be correct: Its okay to be emotional but pick yourself and move on with your life. Time won't stop because you are having a moment.

My advice for incoming freshmen: Make the most out of the events and retreats of high school. Don't let drama, conflicts, or what others say about you ruin your day. High school goes by really fast don't waist that time.

The highlight of my senior/junior year: Mending past relationships so that every event/memory made this year was not followed by a bad memory and so that I could fully enjoy every moment.

God: Thank you Lord for bringing me through everything that you have. Without confiding in you will all things in my life I would have never made it to this point. Thank you for giving me the strength and perseverance to push through the tough times. I praise you for equipping the called not calling the equipped. Parents: Mom and Dad, howdy. Thank you for putting up with all my ambitious ideas, being my chauffeurs, and giving me all the things that I needed to succeed. I am where I am because you have always pushed me to be the best that I can be and to never give up. You have always believed in me even when I don't believe in myself. Dad thank you for building all the projects that I wanted to build and being insanely ambitious with me. Thank you for teaching me how to weld, use a chop saw, speak in front of people, how to be patient, and how to be a leader. Mom thank you for all the Starbucks runs after school when I was exhausted and thank you for sitting with me in Starbucks when I needed a scenery change. Heather: My built-in best friend. I am so grateful that God has healed our relationship and has placed you in my life as my sister but also as my best friend. Sisters by chance friends by choice. Moving to Guatemala would not have been possible without you. Having you move away has made me cherish our time together, our sometimes endless facetime calls, falling asleep on the phone, and just calling to rant really quick just to hang up to talk about it later. I am forever grateful for the kind of relationship that we have because I know that not everyone has this kind of relationship with their sibling. You have been such a great role model to me, not just growing up. I look to you when I have an apologetic question, a friend question, an outfit question, or just anything I need help to make a decision on, which would be everything. HAHA. I could write forever about you and how grateful I am for you but I should leave some space for the other people. Fernanda (V): I don't even know where to start with for yours V. From connecting over a knee injury to going on trips with each other I am so grateful that God has made you my best friend. My sister from another mister. You and your family have taken me in as one of their own and I will forever be grateful for that. We have had countless laughs together and amazing conversations that grow us both as Women of God. I am so grateful that I can have you as part of my support system as someone who will keep me accountable and in check, throughout multiple areas in my life. I am really sad you are staying here in Guate and not the same college as me but I know that God will use your creativity, your compassion, your leadership, your voice, and your drive for His glory. We definitely need to set times to call and catch up after I move back to the states. We are definitely going to be those friends who call all the time and plan vacations with both of our families. Juanpa: My brotha from another motha. Over the years you have become the brother that I always wished I had. You pester me and annoy the heck out of me sometimes but I wouldn't consider you like family if you didn't. Trips with you and your family have been super memorable. I hope you excel in your remaining years of high school and you keep me in the loop with the other things. Eden: Oh my goodness. GOD IS WORKING THROUGH YOU GIRL !! You have honestly pushed me to see the positive side of things, to trust God through the trials, and to love who I am without fear of judgment. Your leadership throughout this last year has been amazing and how you truly listen to God and what he wants you to share/do is inspiring. I can't wait to see what God is going to do in your life and how you are going to blossom and be the wonderful woman that you are. I hope you never lose sight of your values and your goals no matter how hard life gets. I love you girl. Levi: Thank you for being such a great friend to me throughout the years. Throughout the years starting in 7th-grade math you have always been an uplifting and supportive friend. Shout out to Mrs. Jing's Honors Algebra 2 class for being us together at ungodly hours of the day. HAHA. Many 5:00 A.M. mornings during quarantine to get our homework done in time. We have made some fun memories at youth and prom and that has also brought us closer these last two years. You honestly have been such a good listener and such a supportive boyfriend. You have consistently pushed me in my faith and pushed me to be confident in what I believe in. You have supported me and believed in me even when I did not think I could do something. I have been so blessed to have you in my life these last couple of years and I am excited to see where God is going to put you in the future. He has amazing plans for you, your passions and your love for others will lead you to do show-stopping things. Don't bend your Bible too much before you speak, you always do great. HAHA :) I promise I will keep trying to learn about football so that you don't have to explain it to me as much anymore. Class of 22: Y'all are honestly insane but I love it. Servant days, High School Retreat, Antigua, and "go fish" are some of my favorite memories. We have all grown so much throughout the years and I am intrigued to see where we are all going. You all have such different talents and it will be interesting to see how you use them. I wish y'all the best and may the odds be ever in your favor. Ivan: IVAN! Gracias por todo! Por creer en mi y empujarme a mi máximo potencial. Realmente me has mostrado lo que es la verdadera adoración y siempre estaré agradecida por eso. Tu tiempo y dedicación al equipo de alabanza y al coro hicieron que honestamente me enamorara de la música. Me enseñaste que la música no son solo las notas, sino también la emoción. Gracias por todas las oportunidades que me has dado para liderar y servir. Siempre estaré agradecida de que Dios te haya puesto como líder y mentor en mi vida. Te deseo lo mejor con tu familia y con tu carrera musical. Ms. Weldon: GIRL, you have honestly helped me out so much throughout the years. There is one time I remember just crying in your office because you noticed that I was not having a good day. You have never judged what I have talked to you about and you have been such a great role model. You are who has inspired me to truly live out my life for the Lord. To not let anyone tell me who I am or who I should be, but that my identity is in God and who He says I am.

Don't know how to start this but it is what it is. I feel like being a senior is not a "huge thing" but rather it is just another grade as always. I don't really have much to say because I entered CAG last year, and most of the year was online school but I think God has a reason why he put us into quarantine. Thank you God for leading me to the right path, introducing me to CAG where I could experience new things and create memories that I would never forget. Thank you for being by my side, and I will believe in you to lead you in the right direction. 부모님에게는 뭐... 항상 마음은 똑같죠..ㅎㅎ, 항상 건강하고 키워주셔서, 보 호해주셔서 감사하고, 대학 간다고 못보는것도 아니니까 속상해하시지 마시고...사랑합니다. 수안이는 뭐, 해야하는 일은 잘해서 내가 없으 니까 니가 엄마 아빠 보살펴드리고 (Gion Anatomy next year), 유나는 수안이 오빠 말 잘 듣고, 소란피부지 말고 다음에 만나자.

Ok..enough Korean for now...CLASS OF 2022,never knew I would be graduating this fast, this anyone didn't, but here we are. I hope we could meet sometime after we graduate at the White House when Ethan is the new President. Where should I start...my Spanish squad: Vale and Jona.

Jona, my man, survived my junior year all thanks to you and Vale...1 am glad I look like your grandfather, XD, juşt kiddin, but yea thanks for being my Spanish friend, y pues gracias por ser mi cuate.Urim and Wendy.

Urim, I don't even know what to thank for because you are just another level in your colleges..but thanks for being my 런닐면 dude. Wendy...I will be thanking you for being your google translator, and I will be thanking you for being my khan academy for math. David and Santi: I will see you Santi or 상우 for short, hope you get the new character from Head Basketball, and be on time for the rest of your life, David, 좀 음란한데 ...but thanks for the rare experiences (secret code: tswt lognt). Kristen and Robert, thank you for representing our class, StuCo and stuff, the hard part, will always be hoping the best for you guys. Ethan...it was my first year knowing you, because of you weren't the last year, but I respect your views and being the TRUMPSTER.

For CAG next, thank you for giving me a pleasure experience, different from other schools, creating events and new changes of learning and preparing for my college year. I thank all the teachers for all the effort and teachings you gave us, and it was a privilege being your students. I thank all the staff in the school for being kind and always working hard for us and giving us safety and neatness each day. Hm..how should I finish this ... I'll just do it strong and simple, everyone, cat because it is always good. don't drink too much coffee and strong Jona ... I hope you decide what you will study at your college, Ethan, become president so I can be proud. Vale, invite me to your hotel (p.s has to be free), David ... I will visit you to check for my teeth.Santi ... hope you will be forever with your sister. Kristen, I am sure you will meet someone taller than you, Robert ... keep coming up with ideas to debate withMs. Park. Si Woo, ^^7 힘님 간다 Mrs. Cordes, keep saying never, Mr. Malczewski, I hope USA will still be alive, Mrs. Coshinmon, cholesterol is good for your health and Me, don't be stupid and be wise, always choose according to the white side of the Barcode.

Things I would bring if I were stranded on a desert island: my cat, some type of sharp object, a pot, drugs.

My Hero: My mum, because she always can see the good in people even when its hard. Also she is a counselor and she feels the emotions that her clients are feeling and can relate with them on a level that helps her help her clients. She also helped me learn how to give people my heart and feel their emotions and learn how to control my own.

Strangest advice my parents ever gave me and it proved to be correct: Never let others define or choose your morals for you.

My advice for incoming freshmen: Don't let others opinion define you. Walk as if you are the King/Queen. Or walk as if you don't care who the King/Queen is.

Dear Mum and Dad:

Thank you for being the Parent's that my birth mum wished that I would end up with. I am the person I am today, because of all your hard work and I am forever grateful for you being my parents. I can't even imagine what my life would be like if I wasn't a Larimer. Bearing the last name Larimer is a privilege that I am happy to have. I am sorry for all the trouble that I caused growing up but I wouldn't have learned how to love instead of hate, or to choose peace instead of violence. I love you both with all my heart. Thank you for raising me and giving me a chance to have a good education and life that my birth mum couldn't give.

Dear Aria and Daniel:

Bubba and Sissy, I called you these names all my life. I will never forget our times growing up together. Thank you for being the brother and sister that no one could ever ask for. I am so proud to say that you two are my siblings and that I have seen you at your peaks and valleys in life! I can't wait to see what God has in store for my bubba and sissy.

Dear: Valeria Morales

What did I do to deserve a friend like you! You have always been there for me and I hope I can be there for you whenever you need. I remember the first time meeting you at one Harvest Fair when Gaby Castillo brought you and Juanpa to the Elementary Building while we were hiding from the Seniors and their jail. Man how time flies, you and I haven't always been as close as we are now, but I can tell that our friendship will last a lifetime. I know that whenever I needed someone to talk to you were always there making sure that I was okay. I am going to miss you and you smile after we all go our separate ways to College.

Dear Jonathan Romero & Eden Pixcar:

I am writing to you both together, because I believe that I can say for everyone else we hope y'all actually get together! (nah just playin) But for real you both make my day go from being bad to being happy and fun! I feel as if I can be myself around you guys and we act as the three musketeers of our neighborhood. Forever and always there will be the Christjuns! I am going to miss you both when we graduate and we depart to Indiana, Texas, and Guatemala.

Dear David Byeon & Robert Loveall:

You two have been part of my life since Pre-K and Kindergarten. I can't believe that we three are the OG's of the Class of 2022. Man, how time flies. It feels like yesterday we were in kindergarten having sleepovers daily and looking at where we are now Seniors, our last year of High School, and then Graduating in May! WOW.

Dear Class of 2022:

I am sorry for not being able to mention all of you personally but please know that each and everyone of you hold a special place in my heart and nobody can take that place.

Dear Christalinas Gang:

You guys are the best! Continue to grow stronger with your faith in the Lord. I hope you guys get closer than ever before. And please play soccer with Jose Rodrigo every once in a while. Don't let me down.

Post high school dream: Studying diplomacy and 'International Organization', especially UNESCO. Based on my experience in many countries including China and Guatemala, I want to learn how the world communicate each other and what do they do for peaceful world.

Things I would bring if I were stranded on a desert island Match or lighter, MacGyver knife, Blanket, Phone, Bluetooth speaker

My Hero: My hero is Kyunghwa Kang, the former Foreign Minister in Korea. She worked so hard to make better relationship between Korea and other countries. She had fluent English skills and had the ability to explain her thoughts and meanings well no matter what interviews or meetings she attended. I want to emulate that.

Strangest advice my parents ever gave me and it proved to be correct: To do what you want to do in the future, you have to do what you have to do now.

My advice for incoming freshmen: Make more awesome memories with your family and friends!

The highlight of my senior/junior year:

It was online during junior year so I am sooo sad about I do not have many memories with my classmates, but in senior year, we finally met! I will never forget the moment when I met my classmates on the first day of senior year. Also, feeding a baby in health class was unforgettable project in senior year even it was just 3-day project. My last HSR was also unforgettable memory in my senior year. Thanks to everyone who let me have an awesome time in HSR. Well done, StuCo!

제일교회: 잊지 못할 추억 만들어준 사랑하 는 제일교회 식구들, 많이 사랑하고 감사합 니다:) 타지 생활이 힘들지 않게 많이 조언도 해주시고, 기도로 물질로 후원해주신 것 잊 지 않겠습니다! 특히 우리 미존중고!! 내 눈 엔 한없이 어리고 귀여운 동생들이지만 어떤 때는 나보다 언니처럼 든든하게 지켜줄 때도 있었던 것 같아. 코로나 전에 매주 모여서 예 배 드리고 교제 했던 게 나한텐 일주일 중 가 장 행복한 시간이었어. 나 먼저 졸업한다고 모임 소홀히 하고 그러면 확 찾아간다!!커서 뭐가 될지, 앞으로 어떤 공부를 할지, 많이 고민되겠지만 너희의 길을 여시고 만드시는 이는 하나님인거 절대 잊지 말고, 고민 털어 놓을 사람 없을 때 언니한테 연락해!! 무슨 일 없어도 연락하면 더 좋고 :)

All CAG Teachers: I just want to say thank you for your awesome effort for me. Without your efforts, I probably wouldn't have adapted well to CAG. It was very hard for me to learn other languages using other languages, but I was able to complete my last high school successfully because many CAG teachers helped me. Thank you to everyone who helped me. Wherever I am, I will pray for you and CAG.

Class of 2022: When I came to CAG, the first people who I met were you guys. You guys made me laugh no matter what situation I was in, made me feel a sense of belonging, and made me feel like I was walking on the same path. Honestly, if it weren't for you guys, I would have given up my studies earlier. Thank you so much for understanding and waiting for me who is not good at English. If someone tells me to tell you the most memorable thing while I was in CAG, I would definitely say that I was with you. It's an honor to be with you at the end of high school. I'm so sorry that I couldn't make more memories with you because of COVID-19. Even if you go to college, get a job, contact me sometimes when you think of me, and if you have a chance, I want to meet you and see you become adults. Thank you. Bye, my youth.

Mr. & Mrs. Malczewski: You guys were awesome in my last high school days. If I felt like I was falling behind, you led me and helped me to be with my people. You helped me to find my career path well and led me to think and learn correctly in God. I won't forget your efforts. I'll email you when I get back to Korea. Thank you!

Things I would bring if I were stranded on a desert island: Hammock, Lighter, Fishing Net, Knife, and Guitar (with learning book)

My advice for incoming freshmen: Don't be afraid to fail or mess up, as it is the mother of learning. Learn to embrace and learn from it.

Considering that I have to write this down in November means that I will be missing out on a couple of people that I might grow closer with before the school year ends or forget to include them. To them and everyone in this will I'd like to say; I am deeply grateful for your love, support, and sacrifice, which has allowed me to obtain my education, develop my character, establish my values, and most importantly, live a life full of happiness.

Dad & Mom: Thank you for always challenging me to become a better person. Thank you for the many sacrifices that you made in order for me to shine. Thank you for your patience and understanding. I have learned many valuable lessons that I will carry with me for the rest of my life. Jonathan L: Unlike you, I actually remembered to write to you. You kinda screwed me over by getting valedictorian last year. Thank you for all your help throughout the years, not having you this year has definitely proved to be different. Keep it up in college, you got this. Johnny Jr: I have known you the entire time we have been in school together and I gotta say that you are really special. I look at you like a younger brother, but some of the time, I consider you like an older brother for how much you have helped me throughout my life. From allowing me to stay over to always giving me sound advice when I need it. I have no idea what you are going to do without me next year (especially in StuCo since I give you all the ideas :D) but I know that you are going to succeed in anything that you put your mind to. I love you bro, keep it up. Park Family: I would not be writing this if it weren't for you. It almost seems like I have been adopted into the family for the amount of love and support you have offered me. From providing water on game days to inviting and sharing your home with me. I have grown as a man and matured due to your many lessons and hospitality. I love you and I hope to visit often. Minkyu: I can imagine that you are still salty about the many times I have beaten you in chess, and to be honest, cmon, it's embarrassing, who wouldn't be. Nah I'm playing, seeing you walk up in the morning always filled my heart with joy. Growing closer with you has been a definite highlight this year. If you ever need help with anything, don't be afraid to ask. I love you bro, keep going, you got this. Sangun: You are one of the kindest and most considerate people I have come to know. I hope you carry on with TedTalk as I know that you will give it your all. Learn to park in reverse. You have such potential in debate, I hope that you continue pursuing after it. If you ever need help in college, I got you. I love you bro, keep going. Class of 2021: This year, I have definitely felt your absence, but I'm glad to see that many of you guys are doing well. Class of 2022: I am honored to be part of this class and the many times we have bonded in unity throughout the many years. I love each and every member of our class, even those who have moved away. It saddens me that this part of our journey is coming to an end, but it is my hope and dream to stay connected, standing the test of time. David: Thank you for always carrying me in all those science projects and presentations. Thank you for always pushing me to do my best, especially recently, because I don't know where I'd be going. You are one of the most talented and hard working people I have ever come to meet. Thank you for always coming to hangout even if you didn't feel like coming. I can't wait to see you start your own business and put all of the class to shame. Stop worrying about what others say and also stop being so foul. I'm taller than you and everyone knows it. Let's plan on calling often. I love you bro and you better believe I'll come visit you even if you don't want me.Santiago: You have definitely surprised me with just how smart you are and proven to clutch it up in the last moments. Thank you for all the help that you have provided me this year, not only were you there in my lows but also in my highs. Your plans when it came to hanging out were always the best, especially the one on my birthday. Thank you for the times you opened up your house and you might not believe it, but I'm going to miss Caramelo and Tofu. I'll make sure to visit you in Virgina. I love you bud, you got this. Ethan: Thank you for all the philosophical, political, and biblical debates we have had over the many years together. I still think you are wrong ... but hopefully as you mature you will come to learn the truth. I also want to thank you for giving me your blessing, you already know what that means. Let's continue having those discussions in the future. You are welcome for literally creating and giving you your music taste. I hope to see you often. Urim: Your genius is second to none. I know that you will own your company and probably be worth millions of dollars, if I am ever a broke missionary, I might need a little loan :D. Thank you for all your help, especially when it came to math. Keep your head up, you got this. Valeria: After so much time of conflict, I am really glad that we became close friends. Hanging out with you was always a blast. Getting to plan and execute our ideas has been a lot of fun. Thank you for the many talks that we have had. Jonathan R: Mr. I get 100s in physics and math with ease, boy you are so incredibly smart. Thank you for opening up your house all those times and let's be honest you love my music, especially the one that we played at 7 am. I can't wait to play with or against you in college. You got this, I'll visit you often. Thomas: Growing up with you has been an adventure. I can't believe we have spent the majority of our lives going to CAG together. Thank you for the countless nights that you let me stay at your house and just overall support all these years. Wendy: We never got to play baseball together but in case I do go to Korea, you gotta promise me that you'll take me to watch a professional game. I wish that I got to know you because you always had my back when it came to shutting up Ethan. Kristen: Working with you in StuCo has been a blast, always pushing me to be more organized and thoughtful in StuCo events. Taking Anatomy has proved to be hard, but those quizlets definitely made it doable. I wish you luck as a college athlete, let's hope that you don't get injured. Soohoon: You are one of the most artistically gifted people I will ever meet. Just thinking back to the Paw Print and how much time and effort you put in really lifted everyone's spirits. Eden: We both started out kinda rocky, but things have evened out. You have an incredible voice and a knack for acting. You're incredibly talented and I know that you will go far in life. I'll be watching out for your future albums. Rhett: 1 haven't been able to spend as much time with you as I have hoped, but I'm glad that you are part of our class. I am definitely glad that I have gotten to know you better over the last couple months. Thank you for taking care of my eye during servant days. Joanne & Jocelyn: Although our time together was short, I am so glad that you two joined our class. Our class is definitely hard to get used to but I think that you guys have been able to fit in. I wish you two luck in everything and anything that you two do.

To the Class of 2022:

I'm very glad I got to join this class for my last semester at CAG. You've all made this year an amazing experience and something I'll never forget. Thank you for being so friendly and welcoming, and for making starting at a new school so late into high school easier for me. I'm very grateful for all of the new friendships I was able to make at CAG and I hope we get to meet again in the future. I wish you all the best at college or wherever life leads you next, and I hope all of God's plans for your lives are fulfilled.

Graduating and finishing high school at CAG wouldn't have been possible without all your support. Thank you for always being there for me since I started high school and for always believing in me, even when I found it hard to believe in myself. Thank you for always being the best at cheering me up when school got too overwhelming and always having the best advice when I didn't know where life would lead me. Thank you for putting your faith in me and giving me a world of opportunities, who I am today is all thanks to you. Los amo demasiado y espero poder seguir haciéndolos sentir orgullosos.

Post high school dream: To graduate college and be an event planner. This is because I grew up seeing my mom and aunt plan events and I have loved it ever since.

Things I would bring if I were stranded on a desert island: Bible, best friend, parents

My Hero: My mom, because I just see how caring she is with everyone and it inspires me to be more like that. She is always there when I need her and she is such a loving mother.

Strangest advice my parents ever gave me and it proved to be correct: Don't laugh out aloud when texting people and act like something is so important when there is people around you who don't really care about who you're texting, because that will probably annoy people cause they don't care about what you're texting. And it might seem like your are asking for attention.

My advice for incoming freshmen: Y'all just enjoy every second of high school cause it goes by so fast.

The highlight of my senior/junior year: Spending time with my class and just getting to enjoy each other's company.

God: First, I want to start by thanking God for never leaving me alone through the bad and good days. Thank you for the life experiences you have put me through and for always giving me hope. Dios te va a usar grande mente. Isabella (K): Heyyy Girlll! I'm so blessed to have a best friend like you. Really, I cannot wait to see where God takes us next, and I know wherever you end up, He will use you in so many ways. I really cannot believe that this is a see you later for us, but I just cannot wait for our next adventures. During This period of friendships, you have really become more of a sister to me. I'm proud of all your achievements and all your hard work. I will miss seeing you every day, but I will for sure be calling you like crazy! <3 Jona: I don't know how to begin with you. I just want to start by saying thank you for being such an unconditional best friend. You have always been there for me in the good and the bad times. We really go way back to sixth grade, and I just thank God for bringing someone so caring and fun to my life. You really have taught me so many things and have helped me with so much. I cannot wait to see what is next in your life and be able to see what God has plan for you. Just saying do not change because you are an awesome guy. May God bless you through this next step in your life Jonathan, going to miss you! Brody: brooooo, you do not even know how much I missed you these past two years in school. You really have pushed me to be the best version of myself that I can be. I see your walk with Christ and just the humble heart that you have, and it challenges me to be like that. Hope we continue to grow our friendship like we have all these years. Hope the best for you in your senior. Miss you so much brood! My Juniors: Johnny, Sang Un, Ale, and Corinne: the four of you are a huge part of my life. I really have so many awesome memories with you that I will never forget. I hope you guys get to enjoy your senior year and cherish every moment of it. I will miss you guys like crazy and for sure I will keep in touch. Class of 22: My class of 22 Where to begin! It has really been a privilege being part of this class. We have all grown in so many ways and you guys are like family. Santi: let's start with you since you were always late, jaja. Bro you are such a fun and kind guy. Thank you for all the great memories. Urim & Ethan: You two are so nice and kind with everyone. I will really miss being in class with you and hear both of you debate. David & Robert: I've known both of you since fifth grade, and I will never forget all the memories of both of you. You are both great guys and will miss seeing you. I hope the best for both of you in college, let's for sure keep in touch! Soohoon: I've gotten to know you this past two years and you are a fun guy. Thanks for always being so kind. Thomas: Boiiii! You have made me laugh so hard and really enjoy my time with you, I hope the best for you. Wendy & Eden: My girls! You guys are a huge part of my life, I am so blessed to have you as my friends. I cannot believe all the amazing memories we share together. I will miss seeing you guys so often. We must keep in touch and must meet up ones in a while. Love you girls so much and hope the best for both of you. Rico: bro you are an amazing friend so thank ful for your friendship. Can't wait to keep growing our friendship and keep on laughing in those phone calls. CAG: Thank you for giving me the opportunity to be part of your student body.

My advice for incoming freshmen: Actually do your work, believe it or not it is worth it.

The highlight of my senior/junior year: Getting closer to my friends, going out to eat with my class and stuff.

Dad and Mom: Thank you for putting up with me all these years. I seriously appreciate all the patience and love you guys have shown me, and for giving me two good role models to look up to. You guys helped me grow my faith, and I will always love you guys. Thank you for everything you have taught me and sacrificed for me. You guys have shown me how to truly love and serve God.

Class of 2022: Ever since I first came to CAG you guys have been so warm and welcoming to me in your class. I see you guys as family now, and am so glad I got to know you guys. It has truly been a fun journey here, and am so glad we were together for the ride. I am actually so glad I was in your class and not 2023.

David: David, getting to know you these past years has been a blast. Although sophomore year we were not as close, this last year I have really gotten to know you. Thank you for all the rides and help with school homie, you genuinely have one of the kindest hearts I know. Bro Ima miss all the good times and laughs we had, especially in your whip. Fr tho I appreciate all the favors you did for me and just how good of a friend you are. Ima miss you and all your sarcasm homie.

Johnny: Homie, ever since FHSMUN I have really gotten to know you. Bro you're actually so kind and respectful, and actually such a good friend. It's been so fun messing around with you and all the carpool karaoke sessions. You've always been there for me homie, ima miss you.

Robert: Bro I don't even know where to start. Ever since I came you've been so nice, and honestly I can't imagine CAG without you. Thank you for all the help with homework and any problems I had. You're honestly one of the kindest, most honest people, and thank you for always being there for me. Bro we've had so many laughs, and honestly it's been so fun. I've enjoyed whooping you in soccer and literally anything, take care homie Urim: Bro, thank you for always helping me with math or anything I need. Honestly, you were one of if not my first friend at CAG. You're one of the smartest, most hardworking people I know. Keep it up. Also your mom is the GOAT.

Ethan: Ethan ima miss you but not your mindless debates or lowkey racism. Fr though I'm gonna miss you dog, take care of yourself wherever you go. You're actually one of the smartest dudes I know.

Soohoon:Bro I've had so much fun talking about anime with you, you're actually my Korean brother. I'll miss you homie.

Rico: Miss you homie, hope to see you soon.

Jonathan: Bro, clapping Rhett and Ethan in spikeball was so much fun. I'll miss you my Mexican brother.

Thomas: Bro I miss you, thanks for being black with me.

Kristen and Vale: It's been cool hanging out with you guys, I'll miss you.

Eden and Rhett: Although I don't know you guys too well, I know you'll do great things. Also Rhett hopefully you stop being so foul.

Jocelyn and Joanne: You guys are cool, I wish I could've gotten to know you better.

Moving to Guatemala changed my life. Literally. When I came here, I was 15 and fresh out of freshman year. XC, jazz, and the word yeet were life to me. CAG was a big change from Rock Bridge (to say the least), but God knew what He was doing when He brought my family here. He really did. I've had a lot of people ask me if I like it here, and my answer has been yes almost every time. I love itthe people, the places (not to mention the sunsets and tienda ice cream sandwiches). But seriously, if not for the people I've had here, these would have been a much longer 3 years.

My Parentalz: Thank God we got put together; there aren't words for what you both mean to me

Siblings: I love you with my whole heart https://youtu.be/jpDSFCnIQY4

Corinne: there's no one else I'd rather be scared to death with while in a tent after watching Mazerunner and there are suddenly projectiles falling onto the tent and we have no idea what the heck is going on

Ana: you're my sis regardless

Abby and Ellie: you both make me laugh so much and your GIFs are literally the best

Brody: whether you knew it or not, your friendship kept me genuinely smiling even on bad days

Jona: you're one of the best friends I've ever had; thank you for everything; if Jacob Collier is ever in TX hmu, let's go Cristalinas: you're a built-in second family. You've seen the good, the bad, the crazy, the normal, the real, the rude, the really rude, the put-together, and pretty much anything else in me. Love y'all.

Senior bois: don't be so foul; Santi punches too hard and Robert can't take it anymore

Senior girls: thank you for all the memories- from the hilarious ones to the deep ones and for the moments where you pushed me to be better

Ari and Ivan Perez: thank you for everything- from modeling godly obedience to praying for me to small room studios to simple lunches with you both and "ezzi"

And to everyone else, especially Allison Guerra, Thomas, Lydia D., Shelby, Naomi S., Alli Lipe, RBXC, Rhett and Colt, Halle, Hawk, Manny, Benny, Grandma and Papa, you all mean worlds to me to God be the glory

Best C.A.G. memory or other: 8th grade servant days

Things I would bring if I were stranded on a desert island: Socks, shoes, underwear, a shirt, and water.

My advice for incoming freshmen: Enjoy the years that you have and the people around you to the max. It's not all about school.

The highlight of my senior/junior year: Class hangouts

Whatsup? It's your boi Jona here :). I would like to quickly give thanks to all of the people who have immentely impacted me throughout my life. Thank you to all of those who had any type of association with me; each one of you made my life, especially these past four years, better—even if I don't mention you. Cristalinas: To all the people who used to live here, and to those who still do! Thank you. Every single who have immentely impacted me person and family has thoroughly impacted me. You have been like a HUGE second family to me, and I wouldn't change anything about the years that we got together. From running around playing capture the flag, to being stupid at

My Family: I couldn't thank each one of you enough. Firstly, thank you dad for always supporting me even when I acted dumb :v. You have been there for me academically, spiritually, and even in sports. Secondly, thank you mom for being by my side when I had absolutely no idea what to do. even when I was a brat (which is never, of course). Thirdly, thank you Analynne for being a loser through all seasons. All joking set aside, you have been someone that I have been able to lean on in the hardest times. Lastly, thank you

David: for being the biggest noob the planet could ever hold. You have greatly impacted me and influenced me, especially in the last couple of years. Thank you.

used to live here, and to those who still do. Thank you. Every single impacted me. You have been like a HUGE second family to me, and I wouldn't change anything about the years that we got together. From running around playing capture the flag, to being stupid at midnight, every single instance was enjoyed. Special thanks to the Dennett family, who have quite literally taken me in like a member of their family. Thank you Brody for being one of the best people that I have ever met-I hope that our friendship continues to grow regardless of how far away we are from each other. Special thank you to Eden and Thomas as well for adding a spark of joy, influence, and fun into my life in the past years. Special thanks to Colt and Rhett for being awesome friends and getting me through this past year. With that being said, I love v'all: The Dennetts, Dunns, Clynes, McCombs, Pixcars, Newburns, and every other family that lived-or lives-here :0.

CAG: Yes. Thank you CAG. This school has given me more than I could have ever asked for.

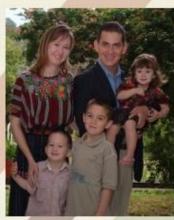

Class of 2022: I don't even know where to start. You are all so dumb, smart, stupid, fun, wacky, spastic, and probably any other word you could imagine. Thank you for making my years at CAG a hundred times better (I'm glad I skipped a grade; sorry kids). I would love to thank each of you individually, but space isn't on our side. I will miss every single one of you (including our goat, Derek, llama, and any other stuffed animal that we destroyed). We miss you Ji, Daniel, and Zeke come back already <3.

God: My appreciation goes beyond anything words could explain. YOU have gotten me through every single up and down. In my grandpa's words, "Prov. 3:5-6 is good to remember, since it is a journey, not just a single decision."

Prov. 3:5-6

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways submit to him, and he will make your paths straight." Love you all :D.

Birthday: 12/29/2004

Where were you born? Mixco, Guatemala

Parents: Hoseok Song, Jing Zhu

Siblings: Elim Song Zhu, Ilim Song Zhu

Pets: Milky (Hamster)

Nationality: Guatemala

Most challenging task as a Senior: The most challenging task is the process of applying to college. There is a lot of research that I have had to do, and a very large amount of essays that I must write for my schools.

Best C.A.G. memory or other: My favorite C.A.G. memory happened during our class's ninth grade Servant Days. Going around different houses and helping the people was fun, but the best part came during the first night, when Mr. Iriarte was telling his horror stories. I remember that, after he finished telling the story, we sprinted back towards our rooms, screaming - half laughter and half panic.

Post high school dream: My post high school dream is attending one of my dream colleges, because the career that I want to step into requires a high level of education, and my dream schools are renowned throughout the world for their quality of education and post-graduate jobs and opportunities.

Things I would bring if I were stranded on a desert island: I would take an axe, a lighter, a water filter, blankets, and a Bible.

My Hero: Elon Musk, I look up to his incredible work ethic and determination to accomplish his goals. He never allowed for failures to deter him from his goals, and instead, learned from them. One of my favorite quotes from him is "When something is important enough, you do it even if the odds are not in your favor."

Strangest advice my parents ever gave me and it proved to be correct: Make a daily schedule and stick to it. This allowed me to manage my time so much better than I did before.

My advice for incoming freshmen: Explore your potential interests as much as you can, and always try your best.

The highlight of my senior/junior year: The highlight was finally being able to hang out with my friends.

It has been eight great years of my life. Unforgettable memories, irreplaceable friendships, and countless treasures were made. Throughout the years, all these factors have created who I am S today, and I wish to thank everyone who impacted me.

To the Class of 2022, thank you guys for all the memories. From performing surgery on the stuffed mouse to the creation of Derrek to (cough) a bed, we had so much fun. I've enjoyed every single moment we've spent together and will look back at these times so so fondly.

Ethan, my best friend, you've always brought the most fun discussions we've had - there was never a quiet moment with you there. I will make sure to pay you back for that computer haha. Dude, every single moment I've spent you was full of laughter. David, my b-day twin, we have a long history, don't we? From the time we were chubby little kids to sleep deprived seniors, you have always been like my brother. Imma miss us laughing after having just stared at each other for 5 secs. Kristen, thank you for always being the female friend that can give opinions from a female's perspective. So much advice from you haha. Soohoon (Kim Saeroyi), you couldn't have come at a better time. We could' ve been friends all the way back in the other CAG but didn't know of each other's existence. Thank you so much for always being there man.

Thomas, Elem gang #2? Dude, always fun talking to you. Keep sending those random selfies that come out of nowhere haha.

Wendy: Nunim... Lowkey one of the most fun people I've ever met. Also, it's thanks to you that my Korean is improving bit by bit haha. Imma always remember the Korean spelling quizzes. Robert, Bobert, blobfish, broll love just being vataroughow/ill not appear in your final vegnubes to stop her from getting hurt (it's going Vale, how can you not run out of things to talk about? "Rosa~ Rosa~"

Eden, how are you always so funny and energetic? Santi, try not to sleep during lectures in college. Jk... Not really. Dude, always be yourself. Some of my most fun yet dumbest moments have occurred with you.

Jona, the man who always carries us haha. I love just being with you bro. There can be awkward silence once in a while but even then it's funny. Jocelyn and Joanne, you guys, even though I haven't known you for long, you've been one of the chillest people I've met.

To the Class of 2023, take care, do not regret anything that you have done thus far. Johnny did you know I used to be lowkey scared of you back in MS? Fr tho man, even though we haven't been close for a long time, you're one of the coolest guys I've met. Rebeka, your Uber is going to be leaving, you might need to get a license as soon as possible ^^. There's never been a boring moment around you - I'm going to remember all of our random conversations that came out of nowhere (spongebob's house?). SangUn ... don't be dumb The rest of you... one more year of stress, yay! Nah fr though, guys ... Enjoy your last year. Do not put too much pressure on yourself cuz God's got your back. Do what you must and should do, but also do what you love (HSR reference?)

Fig, Grace, and Kirsi, take care of Student Media - I trust you guys to keep growing It. If you ever need any of my help, contact me. I'll try to respond ASAP (emphasis on try haha)

Class of 2026, take care of my sister. Try to be hard - I know).

To the Class of 2030, take care of my other sister. Try your best to resist your urge to smack her back.

To my teachers, thank you for your dedication and patience throughout the years. Mrs. Jing (talking to you as my teacher), thank you for all these years of having patiently(not) taught me math. Mr. Loftus, and Mr. Larimer, thank you so much for you teachings Mr. and Mrs. Malczewski, thank you so much for everything these past few years. Talking to you has always been super entertaining and enlightening (so much wisdom!).

To my sisters, try your best to be good kids to dad and mom. Don't fight too much, let dad and mom go on dates. Elim, get taller. Ilim, be kind to your sister. Both of you, always smile!

To my parents, thank you for everything so far. Don't worry too much about me in college. I'll learn how to do everything on my own. I promise I'll let you be proud of me. You know I'll always be laughing and having fun in college. Thank you so much for making me the person I am today. I love you. I'll make sure to call back home very very often - count on it!

I'm going to miss all of you. This is Urim signing off. Love you guys <3 - let's always keep in touch and take care.

Our School Board Stronger Together in Christ

Many times, we refer to C.A.G. as a family. Like any family there are challenges we face due to the wide variety of people that make up our school. Not only is there a variety of differences, but our family members come and go as students graduate or they are called to serve elsewhere in God's kingdom. Even then we are stronger together.

How do we unify everyone when we are such a melting pot of cultures, denominations and personalities? What are the key things that unify us as a family? What do we want to ensure future members bring into our family? What do we want to keep out? These are some of the challenging questions your School Board faces. As a Board, our greatest calling is to serve the C.A.G. family by ensuring that we do not lose our way. Our desire as a Board is that the atmosphere and culture we enjoy today at C.A.G. is here for years to come.

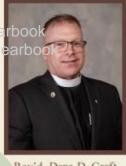

In the end, the glue that makes us stronger is our love and dedication to Jesus Christ. Regardless of what country you are from or what style of music you prefer when you worship, we become one in the family of Christ when His love is the center of our lives. We will continue to work and strive to make Christ known through our love for each other as we lead C.A.G., excited to see what God wants to do in and through us all.-Mr. Hardeman

Mrs. Anita Ovalle: Endurance and Strength

Having a legacy is an amazing and difficult thing to accomplish. Mrs. Anita Ovalle achieved this legacy by the breathtaking fact of working at C.A.G. for the entirety of 40 years. She has been committed to this school and performed a variety of roles.

Mrs. Ovalle originally came to Guatemala in 1968 at the age of 32 to serve as a teacher for two missionary families. She had always wanted to be a missionary, and this opportunity gave it to her. A while later, she and her family found the community of CAG when they were searching for a good Christian school for their children. They found that school in the Christian Academy of Guatemala and she has now stayed there for many years.

During Mrs. Ovalle's time at CAG, she has taught a variety of subjects to a variety of classes. She first taught fifth grade from 1981 to 2010. In addition to this she tutored, mainly math, taught cooking, and now she currently teaches sewing. Not only has she been teaching children, but she has worked in the library for much of her time at this school. Her commitment to this school has helped many students.

What makes someone stay at this school for forty years? Mrs. Ovalle said that "the atmosphere, friendly people, and people who I enjoy talking with," helped her stay. Though C.A.G. has much to offer, her favorite thing about it is that it "had/has a Christian atmosphere." She hasn't been the only one blessed by the people at school, many people have been blessed by her.

One of the families blessed by Mrs. Ovalle is the Patton family. Mrs. Tressa Patton shared, "Mrs. Ovalle has been a Godsend for our family. We are so thank ful that she continues to use her gifts and passion for teaching. Mrs. Ovalle is a wonderful example to the entire community at CAG of someone who serves God every day of her life and desires to keep on learning new things."

about Mrs. Ovalle, "Mrs Ovalle always finds the older books to read to classes. Books that have not read in awhile but still have a good story. She loves to read to classes and share her love for books."

Korean

Student Leader: Rebeka Suh Faculty Adviser: Ms. Cordes Meeting Day: Tuesday

I created Korean club a lot of my friends were asking me to teach them Korean and I wanted to teach them. It has been great running the club, apart from the fact that I had to miss out on some of them because of schedule conflicts. "It is a great club filled with laughter and new words every Tuesday" Korean club is great!

Origami

Student Leader: Elim Song Faculty Adviser: Mr. Dunn Meeting Day: Tuesday

Icreated Origami Club because I wanted to show the beauty of a different type of art. Running the club has sometimes been stressful, but it has also been very fun. Yes, it's true, we all start the same way, but it always ends up as something different. It is just like us humans. We all start as babies, but the way we hold ourselves is what makes us - us.

Chess

Student Leader: Robert Loveall Faculty Adviser: Mr. Loftus Meeting Day: Monday

The reason why I created the Chess Club was pretty simple. I really enjoy playing chess and wanted to help bring more people into the sport or hobby (take your pick). So by creating the Chess Club, I think that not only I but its Executive committee have been able to succeed at that very goal. It has been interesting to say the least, but a very enjoyable experience. I definitely need to work on communicating and offering more for the students to not only uplift them but give them more incentive to come participate. Through Chess Club, it gives students and even faculty the opportunity to expand on their chess knowledge and skill set. The time to meet is during lunch every Monday if interested. There is nothing else that I would like to add.

many people have a guitar sitting at their houses doing nothing. Since learning an instrument on your own at home can be challenging, I thought, why not make a club where you can bring your guitar to school to learn and play together with other people?. Secondly, I thought it would be fun just chilling and playing guitar at school with other people. Running the guitar club has been peaceful at times and unpredictable at others because it all depends on how many people bring their guitars, which I think is the hardest part of guitar club since you'll have a lot to carry."Just play what you want"

Coding

Student Leader: Levi Davis II Faculty Adviser: Mrs. Davis Meeting Day: Friday

Coding has been a dream of mine for a while now and I had heard other students shared my passion, but had less knowledge about computers. I have been on computers practically all my life and know everything on how to operate one. So, naturally, I wanted to educate them on computers and, in the meantime, teach them (and myself) more about the coding language and how it work. Running the club has gone pretty smoothly so far, and I intend for it to get even more exciting. We are going to have challenges, games, and races amongst peers. Coding club is a place where students can hangout with peers, learn about computers and code, and create fun games and more. The limit is up to you! We always welcome new people with a smile and always have room for people with a motivation to learn more about electronics. The ever-growing society of technology invites not only an easier way to live, but a newfound curiosity to learn more about the electronics we use on a daily basis. Having a basic foundation of knowledge about these devices can improve your chances of success in the near future as our society continues to advance.

Crafting

Student Leader: Nicole Fisher Faculty Adviser: Ms. Cordes Meeting Day: Friday

I created this club because I saw no art clubs had been created! I thought that not having a club to express your creativity was really important! So, I decided to start Crafting Club! Also I have always been a craft person and I also wanted a place to share some things I know. Running the Club has been totally a challenge! You need to be prepared and ready for anything. Also keeping everything organized and well planned is not an option it is a need! "Use your imagination and inspire others with it!" A message I would like to tell the community is that, be creative use your imagination! Even when you think you are not creative, there is some creativity inside you! People in Crafting Club I hope you enjoy it! thanks it's has been a great opportunity!

CHS Community Service

Throughout the year, members have aspired to uphold all of these pillars, and I can confidently say that every one of the members have succeeded. The goal this year was to support the school in as many ways as possible, which have included member's active participation in taking care of the faculty's kids on Wednesdays and helping members of the community in whatever ways possible. We have also worked to serve the communities surrounding C.A.G., with two service projects this year: one in the Cojon's orphanage "Hogar Manna -AMA" and another in the Dunn's ministry "Hands of Hope International. We hope that you have seen the effects of the works that CHS has done, and we will strive to continue our efforts of serving our community and the communities surrounding us. - Urim Song Zhu (President)

The C.A.G. Honor Society, known as CHS, is an honor society whose members are elected off of four pillars: scholarship, leadership, service, and character. All the members of CHS have been nominated and chosen to become a part of CHS because they have fulfilled these characteristics. The main purpose of CHS however, is to serve the community, whether it be the C.A.G. community of the communities surrounding C.A.G. This year's executive committee decided that they wanted to focus on C.A.G., due to the recent damage caused by Covid, and worked together with the administration to make this happen.

Quill & Scroll

The completion of the first year of the chapter was led by the Rebeka Suh, President, with the goal of honoring student journalism. It takes strength and courage to start something new and run it for it's first year.

"Running the Quill and Scroll Honor Society has honestly been a very chill experience for me. At first, I think all of us were a bit lost about what to do since we are the first students of the honor society at CAG. However, I think by the time we got to organizing the induction ceremony, we were very united and we successfully carried out the ceremony. It was a very valuable experience to set the initiative for a new chapter." - Rebeka Suh (President)

Right before the publication of this book, QSIHS had its second induction ceremony. Smiles filled the room as many of the members were being acknowledged for their hard work and dedication for the promotion of student journalism. During this ceremony, the current chapter officers presented speeches and congratulated the new members, lighting the path for the new generations to come.

"English is the subject that brings people together because it's all about stories about humanity and everyone can relate to that in some way," commented Mrs. Tressa Patton, the high school English teacher. English is a useful subject that teaches students how to think, interpret, and express themselves in the right way. It creates connections and ways people can relate to one another. It can teach about history and social life through the pages of a good book. It grows the knowledge that people have and brings to light realities. Mrs. Patton, Ms. Shelby Weldon, Mrs. Kelli Rivera, and Ms. Ashleigh Park all spend their time teaching this class to the students of C.A.G. "I love English and reading and writing. First grade students Shane Hinkeldey and Layla Horton use literature to gain a greater understanding of History.

Danielle acquires historical knowledge through textbooks.

History is a portal to the past. Like Levi Hardeman said, "History is more than a class. It is a portal to our past that can help us change the future" When we study it, it's like if we walked into the 1800s or 1700s or any year and we get to see what life was like at that time. By seeing what life was like, we can better understand what life is like now. Mr. Colt Dunn, a secondary history teacher said, "I am a firm believer that we should keep and study a historical record of events, either good or bad, so that we may either replicate successful endeavors, or avoid mistakes ... It [Social Studies] is the study of culture, geography, history, economics, government, and the list goes on." This portal to the past can also show us God's hand in everything that took place. Mr. Dunn explained, " I love teaching history [because] it is easy to see the movement of God throughout the generations and actions of men over the years...As a result I love teaching the bible while in the context of history class." Many people see history and the Bible as separate things, but in reality, they aren't. Mr. Dunn commented that "If nothing else I sincerely hope that my students can walk away knowing that their faith and social studies are not enemies" Although some history focuses on the individual, it can also focus on community and teach us how to live in that community. Mr. Dunn explained. "In reality we are all the same, regardless of ethnicity, culture, and language...It is as we learn and grow that we develop different cultures, languages, and even ethnicities. Once this is realized the studies of these things becomes a beautiful melody of God's orchestration played throughout the context of time. Thankfully, He allows us all to be a part of it." Math is more than a concept. It is an attitude, an idea, an ability. Through the numbers, expressions, shapes, and equations you can learn to have a patient, humble and resilient attitude. Mrs. Jing Zhu, a secondary math teacher, explained, " [Students should learn] Not just the math concepts of knowledge but the attitude, like how to learn to be resilient and resistant and how to overcome the difficulties you might encounter ... with math you really have to be patient with yourself and the material. How to sit down and spend hours solving some questions and learn how not to give up easily ... [but] learn to admit when something is too hard, how to surrender." Another thing that can be learned in math classes is logical and critical thinking abilities. Mrs. Cojon, a secondary math teacher, said, "I hope that students will leave my class with logical thinking abilities and reasoning skills that will help them in all areas of life ... I also hope that they will understand a bit more about the nature of God as seen through the order and numbers that He created the Universe with." There are more teachers than just these two. Ms. Shelby Weldon, Mr.

Timothy Clyne, and Ms. Murphy are all math teachers as well. Math is an amazing class that can bring people together. Mrs. Cojon commented, "I think that math can bring people together by helping us to better understand the world. It is a tool we can use for understanding each other and for better communication." Mrs. Rachel Loftus, a secondary math teacher, added that by saying, "When people come together to struggle and to fight to solve a problem that is difficult, it can unite you against something that is difficult." A concept but more than that...that is what math is.

Science: Helping Our Minds and World

" Science is the study of God's creation." said Mr. Eric Larimer. one of the science teachers at our school. Science does a million things that help our world. From technology to simple understanding, science shares it all with us. At school, our science teachers impart this knowledge to us. "I teach science because ... Studying and/or teaching science shows me how intelligent our God is to have created so many intricate details and there are many fun experiments that can be done in science class. I think it is easier to get students interested in a topic when they are able to do fun things in that topic/ class," said Ms. Kaytlynne Kerwin, another science teacher. The amazing teachers that devote time to teaching this class are Mr. Larimer, Ms. Kerwin, Mrs. Cojon, Mr. Loftus, and Mrs. Goshimon. Science doesn't just focus on discoveries, but as Mr. Larimer said, "[Science can bring us together] when people work together on science research and technological applications. They are able to solve difficult problems." Teachers aren't only the ones who love science. Urim Song said, "Science is a gateway into seeing the creation of God." Learn about God's creation and the amazing discoveries happening today.

Bible

"All Scripture is God-breathed and is useful for teaching, rebuking, correcting and training in righteousness..." it says in 2 Timothy 3: 16-17 NIV. In Bible class, teachers teach this God-breathed scripture to help their students understand and apply it better in their own lives. Ms. Ashleigh Park, a secondary Bible teacher, commented, " I think many students tend to see the bible as historical stories or inspirational quotes, but I love that I get to teach about how the bible is the living word and voice of God in our lives today and every day." Bible class isn't only about learning, but also about thinking. Mr. Gregory Malczewski, a secondary Bible teacher, stated, "It's not so much content, as it is learning how to think through the value of what's being taught...the idea of thinking through what's going on in scripture and thinking through how that impacts our life is more significant to me." Through Bible, there are many things to help remember in later life, like

Ms. Park said, "I hope ... you would remember and hold on to the foundational truths of who God is and how he wants you to read and receive his word." There are many wonderful Bible teachers at CAG. They are Ms. Park, Mr. Malczewski, Ms. Sheri Cordes, and Mrs. Michelle Vallar. Bible isn't only for your personal growth, but it can bring people together. Mr. Malczewski explained, "If someone is discouraged you can encourage them by helping them understand [that] what you know is the real matter when it comes to Christianity ... " Students enjoy and find this class useful as well. Kristen Kellogg said, "Bible classes are what give students the tools they need to go out into the "real world." It is where theological questions are asked and faith is grown. No CAG graduate has the excuse that they never had the opportunity to know the Lord because of how invested each and every Bible teacher is." This Scripture is God-breathed and useful.

"One language sets you in a corridor for life. Two languages open every door along the way," said Frank Smith. Many people start just knowing one language. but a second language can open up so many opportunities. Spanish class teaches you another well known language that can help. Mrs. Marlene Rivera, a Spanish teacher, said, "I want my students to learn how to properly write and speak Spanish. I want them to be able to read and understand Spanish literature. I want them to be able to properly understand spoken Spanish. That way they can interpret and understand Spanish at their own level." Mrs. Rebeca Morales added to that by saying, "I want my students to learn something that will stick with them. Spanish also helps you relate with other Spanish speaking people. It's very useful to know two languages." When you learn a language you don't only learn the actual language, but you also learn the culture. Mrs. Ingrid Albisuresz commented, "I would like it if they learned my language and also my culture and that it will be useful for their future." Even though Spanish is useful in your personal life, it is also helpful in uniting people of different cultures and countries. Mrs. Albisurez explained that by saying, "Any language can bring people together because they can have a conversation with different people in different countries and cultures." One student, Gustavo Venegas said, "Spanish class is one of my favorite classes! It helps me develop my native tongue and expand my vocabulary. I've loved the Spanish program here at CAG, it has helped me keep my native tongue in constant use and has helped my peers speak Spanish as well." This language opens doors for you along your corridor of life.

Art

Art is a time of creativity, of using your imagination and creating something that's original and your own. But art isn't only about painting and drawing. Ms. Sheri Cordes, the art teacher, said "I love teaching art to people who don't think they can do it because anybody can learn. I love helping people to learn a new skill. something that they never thought they could do before ... I want to make you aware of how much art influences your everyday life, There is nothing around vou...that does not start with art." So many things that come from art influence us, and learning all about it can help us know what messages people are telling us. Ms. Cordes also said that whatever idea the artist is trying to communicate can bring people together or divide them. Art is also relaxing and enjoyable, as Ale Venegas said, "I'm grate ful to have art class as my elective, it's a nice cool down at the end of the day where I can have fun and do what I love most."

Mr. Ivan Perez, the music teacher said, "It's one of my biggest passions to just express music, to just transmit music to everybody around me ... " There are many things to love about music. The rhythms, the melodies, the harmonies, the tempo, and so much more. "I would like them to like the music class, to fall in love with melodies and harmonies. Music makes a difference in life. I really hope that everything I planted in them will someday give good fruit...just give it back to the lord," commented Mr. Perez. A lot of times music is personal to one person, but it can also unite and tear apart. "Music brings memories. Music is very very emotional and spiritual...music can change your day...Music is powerful," Mr. Perez added. Music isn't only enjoyed by the teacher, but also by the students who get to ingest this knowledge and love of music. Valeria Morales told us, "Choir is the place where I put to practice my ability to work with a group of people. With different ranges, we get to meet and synchronize from our hearts to our voices." When someone goes to the ocean, they can do two things. They can just skim the surface, just walk in the shallow zone or they can get in the deep water and dive down. When you just skim the surface, it can be pretty and nice and cool, but when you dive deep it becomes amazing and more detailed. AP classes are like diving deep in the ocean. Every topic becomes more detailed and more interesting. Mrs. Jing Zhu, an Honors and AP math teacher commented, "[In AP and Honors classes the goal is] just to challenge everyone in the class. So I feel like the pace will be much faster ... " AP and Honors classes require much more than regular classes. Mr. Brandon Loftus, the AP Physics teacher explained, "The level of critical thinking and problem solving skills that you need are significantly higher and so the depth of content is significantly more. We really go down and plumb the depths of the content and the laws and understanding." Even though more is required, in the case of AP Spanish, the students have been learning Spanish for most of their lives. "So this [AP Spanish] is a little bit more difficult but it is also easier since the students have already been prepared through their life in these areas that are studied," said Mrs. Rebecca Morales, the AP Spanish teacher. Even though AP classes are hard for an individual, they can bring people together. "I think this is a class where a lot of times people find that they have to be collaborative in the learning process with other students ... " said Mr. Loftus. From a students perspective, specifically David Figueroa's, "AP classes, although hard, are incredibly helpful for our future. They help us apply for credit in college classes, which saves us a lot of time and money for college. These classes are challenging, but they give us a little taste of how college will be and help us grow academically." Let's dive deep down into an ocean of learning.

Where does our clothing come from? Our food? It all comes from agriculture. "Agriculture is like a big umbrella and there are so many things underneath it and all together they are agriculture," said Miss Shelby Weldon, the agriculture teacher. She gets to share all of this knowledge with her students so they can "have an appreciation for agriculture and realize that it's all around us" just as Miss Weldon said. This is a hands-on class in which they learn about cattle, livestock, growing food, and so much more, including life skills. A bigail Clyne, a student in this class, said, "Agricultural science is a class where I have learned skills that I will be able to use in the future." Defend Your Views! HS - Debate

Life presents many opportunities in which we can decide if something is right or wrong. If it is wrong, then what do we do? It's hard to debate something when you don't know how, so this class teaches you how to debate respectfully and logically. Not full of hatred or yelling, but well done and use facts not emotions. Robert Loveall described this class as, "Debate class gives students the chance and opportunity to expand on their ability to present and defend an idea while simultaneously arguing against the opposition." Mr. Colt Dunn, the debate teacher, added,

"Indeed debate was invented so that people could verbalize a logical chain of thought and dispel faulty ideas. I love teaching debate because it shows students how to research well, be strategic, think logically, and present themselves in a confident manner." There are so many ways this skill is useful in life. Mr. Dunn described one like this, "Each and every day we have this ethical debate with ourselves, is this right or wrong, is this harmful or beneficial? The goal of my debate class is for students to be able to logically reason this out every time they have this inner debate." Even though it's easy to think of debate as a skill just for yourself, it can bring people together as well. Mr. Dunn commented, "Debate teaches a beautiful sense of awareness, and receptiveness, to hear the other person out and listen to understand, not listen to respond... I believe that if we all learned this ability the world would be a much more unified place." Debate is such a useful skill to have and can be fun as well. As Robert Loveall said.

"Debate class is the perfect chance to respectfully diss your classmates with facts and logic."

They see the fruit of their work through the published version of their long hours. Student journalism is important because it lights up the dark places and tells a story to reveal the truth about any subject such as bullying. Urim Song, the Co-Editorin-Chief said . "Student media is a sort of megaphone for students to voice their opinion. It gives us, students, a platform where we know that our voices will be heard, and I find that to be a beautiful opportunity that cannot be found in most places."

How Fast Can You Type? MS - Computer

Typing on a computer is used every day of your life. If it's writing an essay, researching a topic, or texting a friend-you type. Computer Apps teaches this life skill to the sixth graders in their first year of secondary. Mr. Gregory Malczewski, the computer apps teacher, explained the purpose of this class, "If they already know how to type, my hope is that they will type more accurately and a little more quickly For students that have never typed before or type very little, the goal is to get them up to 35 wpm so that they didn't have to look at the keyboard, they could get work done because a lot of what we do in high school now-adays requires a typing skill." This result of what typing produces helps everyone share their ideas, communicate, or just have fun! So, how fast can you type and share your thoughts with others?

Learning how to use the computer is an essential thing for today and the future.

Access to computers has become a basic need for education in our society.

Sewing Class can teach you how to fix your clothing or make something new! " [They learn] just basic sewing. How to turn on a sewing machine, but we do some hand also," Mrs. Anita Ovalle, the sewing teacher, explained. Every skill learned in sewing class will follow the students till adulthood, Mrs. Ovalle does all her own sewing and has done it since she was 10 years old. This is helpful and can not only help yourself but others as well. Grace Jang said, "During sewing, we learn how to measure, how to use our hands, and the ability to fix the wrong thing. We learned how to be passionate about it, being proud of what we have learned and made, and having fun with others and sharing our results." Sewing is a fun and useful skill that helps all throughout their lives.

Everyone could see their friends again and experience the privilege of going to school in person. Johnny Park, the Student Council President said, "... I believe that being able to attend school in person is a privilege most people, including myself, have been taking for granted..."

Attending school in person was able to give us a break from the hard times and loneliness that was experienced during COVID-19. David Figueroa remarked, "going back to school and being able to see my new friends again was a relief from all the hardships and uncontrollable changes from Covid. It gave me back a feeling of normality."

This day also created excitement and a general feeling of anticipation for what was yet to come throughout the school year. Rebeka Suh commented, "When I stepped into school on our first day, I was filled with excitement and anticipation for every event that was going to happen this year." Written By: Grace Miller

The music that filtered out from the gym this December 3, 2021 was beautiful. It reflected the Christmas spirit and the joy that God brings us with remembering Jesus' birth. Grades K-12 participated in this concert taking different roles. "The students displayed their wonderful talents in different ways; singing, playing instruments, dancing, acting, helping on stage," said Mr. Ivan Perez, one of the organizers for this event. The theme was the Light of Christmas, but the Elementary kids embraced this theme in a different way. "We came up with an idea: to have different Christmas characters (Polar Express Cast, the Drummer Boy/girl and some others) come to the 'North Pole' to share the big news, that Christ is born!" commented Mr. Perez. These students joyfully sang and danced in their pajamas making the audience smile. The Secondary students sang in the choir and had different solos on stage to celebrate the season and worship the Lord. To end this musically diverse and fun concert, different students from 6th-12th grade danced on stage with enthusiasm and joy." 'The Light of Christmas', was truly a celebration to Jesus. We felt so happy to be back together (last year it was online), singing carols, watching the kids perform on stage, and having the families share some cookies," Mr. Perez joyfully shared. Good job to all who participated in this concert!

Senior Fun

Hi Seniors, it's me! It's been a long time since we started our journey at C.A.G., hasn't it? Some of us have been here from the very beginning, and some of us just came this semester. Regardless of when we came, we have been together for long enough that I see each and every single one of you as brothers and sisters.

It's been one heck of a ride with all of you guys. I first came to C.A.G. in fourth grade, although I knew some of you (David and Ji [miss you bro]) way before then. Since then, I've been stacking memory after memory with our class. Remember Irtra in fifth grade? What about Pacaya in eighth grade? What about when we finessed the system and went to Irtra in tenth grade? Now, we're not gonna talk about the destruction that we've caused... or am I? I'll just give a few words whose backstory only we will understand. Hope you still remember these events in the future based on these keywords: eraser, fan, bed, bed, sink, cherry tomatoes, bed, Goldfish, fan blowing towards your butt, hammocks. This list can go on and on, so I'll go ahead and do that. Sauna, pea throwing, lunchtime volleyball → a broken (fractured?) neck... Okay, I'll stop here. Now, do you remember that time that Mr. M got mad at us? Or when we got told to be quiet because of our beautiful opera? What about that time during a trip when the teamwork between the boys was best? I made so many memories together with you guys, that I can assure you that they will never be forgotten.

As we go off in our own paths, I hope that we never lose contact with each other. I hope that our class chat will stay alive, even after decades pass. I hope that we will get together every so often, hopefully at least once a year, and cross things off our bucket list.

Seniors, I pray for us in our future endeavors. For now, we will be going our separate ways, but if God allows it, I pray that we can cross paths again. I love you guys, and I will deeply miss you all. Thank you for all the memories, and let's continue to make more, even after graduation.

*Note: Ethan, I'll be waiting for your wedding invitation. *Second note: Keep the Council of Fowls alive!

Love you guys (smooch)

For many students, their Senior year can either be one of the most stressful parts of their high school career or be one of the most fun and exciting ones. However, our class, the Class of 2022, decided that we would like to properly balance our Senior year between our responsibilities as seniors and enjoyment as one of the most memorable years. The Senior Retreat is a time for seniors to plan what they are going to do as a class throughout the school year. The class of 2022 met on Saturday, September 4, and went through a lot of things during that day. We planned out and discussed what we wanted to do as a class to leave a mark on C.A.G., how to go about our Senior Trip, and so on. We also planned out a class goal: "unity".

Seniors, I hope that we can achieve our goal of unity, becoming lifelong friends that we can always trust. It is our final year, let's work hard and achieve our goals!

2 YearDOOK Congratulations on reaching the milestone NJ Wigh school graduation!

We can't believe this time has come already. It seems like just yesterday you were our little boy, running around with curious eyes and a contagious smile. We are so proud of you and the godly young man you have become. You are a strong leader, an independent thinker, and a good friend to others. We admire you for what you have accomplished and the challenges you have overcome. We know you will go on to achieve great things! But remember, we deeply love you for who you are, not what you do. You are truly a gift from God. Seek Him always and walk boldly down the path He has set before you.

May the Lord bless you and keep you. May he make his face shine upon you and give you his peace.

Now, go make America great again....and whatever you do, don't blink!

We love you very much, Dad and Mom

School Director's Message:

Failure is the only Path to Success

"... for all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and all are justified freely by his grace, through the redemption that came by Jesus Christ." -Romans 3:23-24

Many of us allow fear, and in particular, the fear of failure to prevent us from really living fully in God's will for our lives, when in reality, without failure, success is impossible. Psalm 73:26 says, "My flesh and my heart may fail, but God is the strength of my heart and my portion forever,". There are so many things in the world right now that are confusing and even scary, but, as Christians, we must lean on the Lord to overcome our fears and model for others the strength that we receive from our faith in Jesus Christ as our savior.

My prayer is that CAG's 2022 graduates, as well as our returning students. families, teachers, and staff, will learn to overcome our worldly fears, especially our fear of failure, and instead celebrate our setbacks and trials for surely there is no failure as long as we continue to try.

"I can do all things through him who gives me strength." -Philippians 4:13

"Failure is not the opposite of success, it's part of success." -Anonymous

Mrs. Holly Newburn Director, Christian Academy of Guatemala

Letter from the Managing Editor

This book just like any other was a team effort. Just like our theme Stronger Together, C.A.G is one big family with different parts.

You might see some differences in this book. The four Top Editors decided that we wanted to honor the Seniors first. We also made the decision to portray our theme Stronger Together by putting Elementary, Secondary, and Faculty all together in the sections. Along with full-time and MK step students all together on their respective class pages. MK step students are designated by a lighter green border.

This decision was made because we felt that we are one school body and family, and that includes MK step students. I have enjoyed putting this book together for the school. The process wasn't easy but was rewarding. I learned so much during this process. I learned how to delegate, communicate, and how to work with others.

This book gave me opportunities to connect and work with different people. I am so thankful for the people who worked on this book. So many of you are so special to me, and I'm so glad to publish this book with you. Each of you is so special. I love you all. Each of you has played such an important role in my life. Especially the four Top Editors you guys are absolutely amazing, every one of you has taught me and shown me so much. I wish the best for all of you.

So back to the book, I sincerely hope that God can use this book for His glory. Thank you to Mrs. Davis and the whole Student Media class for making this book possible.

Letters From the Co-Editors-In-Chief:

Almost everything in life needs a team to be accomplished. For the creation of this yearbook, teamwork was crucial. Writers, photographers, and designers had to step outside of their roles to help out with other parts of the book.

As I leave C.A.G. and this wonderful team. I am assured that this team is left in good hands. I have learned so much from being part of and leading the Student Media Team, and I hope that any future staffers will be able to gain the same amount of or more enlightenment that I have from this class.

Shout-out to the entire yearbook and newspaper staff for everything they did. Special shout-out to Grace and Kirsi for leading the yearbook team this year. And finally, shout-out to Mrs. Davis for all the time and effort she has spent on this book, and also for the amazing amounts of support she has given the entire staff.

1 and and

Mr. Unim Song Zhu 2022 Sonshine Co-Editor-in-Chief

This year was full of trials and accomplishments. I believe we all learned something new about teamwork and what goes into making a publication. We have overcome challenges and even missed deadlines, but never failed to complete a publication.

This yearbook and all our publications are a tribute to all the hardworking students in our class.

To all the editors: Gustavo Venegas, Kirsi Robertson, Gahin Han, Da In Lee, David Figueroa, Daniel Rodriguez, and Urim Song. These works could never have been put together without them and their hard work of sacrificing hours to complete the necessary work. I could never complete any job in our class without all of you. We're stronger together.

Thank you all for working so hard this year.

Adviser Memo:

It is with great joy to have the Student Media staff work together creating this book from scratch. They came up with the theme (it's definition and purpose), colors, style guide, content rules, and have owned all their decisions while being advised here and there.

This book will have mistakes/errors (not intentional) and it is not perfect, but praise our Heavenly Father for forgiveness and unconditional love while we serve (1 Peter 4:8-10). Thank you for supporting student run publications/media.

Blessings and gratitude, Mrs. Jackie Davis 2022 Sonshine Adviser
